Wooded hills, lowland woodland, meadows, villages, variety

In Brief

This double-figure-of-eight walk goes from one of the best hills of Surrey to one of its best villages, through a variety of terrain. It can be split into two contrasting walks, one through the wooded hills and valleys of Hindhead Common and the other through lowland woods and over grassy meadows. Any good footwear is fine for the drier seasons but, after prolonged rain, there will be some muddy and slippery sections, making good boots essential. There are hardly any nettles, so shorts are wearable. It seems mainly fine for your dog.

The Full Walk and the separate Western Walk start in the Punch Bowl car-park at Hindhead, just off the A3, postcode GU26 6AB (small charge for non-NT members). The separate Eastern Walk starts in Grayswood, postcode GU27 2DR, or Chiddingfold. The full-length walk may also start in Chiddingfold, postcode GU8 4TX. For full details, see Getting There at the end of this text.

This walk is also part of the Hindhead-Alfold Monster.

The Walk

Leg 1: Hindhead to Grayswood 4 km=2½ miles

This is the start of the Full Walk (Legs 1 - 4). For the shorter Western Walk, start here and do just Legs 1 and 4.

- 1 After possibly stopping to admire the view over the Punch Bowl from the famous viewpoint at the back of the car park, turn right by the noticeboard in the direction of the Sailor's Stroll walk. Immediately keep straight ahead, avoiding a left fork and a wooden gate. Avoid a very wide rough track (the old A3 road) and, 50m later, turn left on a surfaced trail, still on the Sailor's Stroll. You have great views left and soon pass the Sailor's Stone. It commemorates the notorious murder of a sailor returning to his ship in Portsmouth. It was on Gibbet Hill that three men were hanged in 1786 for the crime. Charles Dickens even used this story in Nicholas Nickleby.
- 2 After 400m on this trail, turn right on a wide track, still on the Sailor's Stroll, past a NT sign for Gibbet Hill. Veer left on a path, soon emerging onto the open space of Gibbet Hill with its Celtic cross and extensive views of the other Surrey Hills. Not far from here is the entrance to the A3 Hindhead Tunnel which was completed in 2011.
- 3 From the direction finder, turn right at the very edge of Gibbet Hill, following a sign for the Hidden Hindhead Trail, on a winding narrow path that descends for over 100m through pine trees, to reach a junction of many paths. Take the wide rising path directly ahead through a green steel barrier. In 20m, ignore a path branching left and, where the path splits at a bank of tall trees, keep to the path on the right. This path has fine views to the left, where the foliage permits. The path passes on your left the octagonal foundation of the lost Temple of Four Winds, built by Viscount Pirrie, designer of the Titanic, in 1910 (see the walk "Witley, Hambledon, Chiddingfold"). Ignore a signed path right here, thereby leaving the Hidden Hindhead Trail. 80m later you come down to a junction of wide paths under tall beeches.

- 4 Ignore the wide paths to the left and right and go straight ahead on a somewhat narrower path that curves right and descends steeply through a coppice. At the bottom, it joins a path coming from the left and immediately reaches the side of a broad valley and a junction of paths.
- 5 There is a grassy path left and a level path slightly right that skirts the valley. Ignore both and take a much narrower path opposite, just to the right of a post with a yellow arrow (easily missed because of vegetation), through bracken. (Skippy's dodge: if the narrow path is too wet or overgrown, turn right on the level path for 250m and then left at a post with blue arrows on a good path which curves left and in 350m meets the junction mentioned below; turn right and continue from the next section.) This path winds through a marshy and botanically very rich and diverse area. If the ground is boggy, you can escape it through bracken on your right. The terrain will improve rapidly. The path widens and runs straight between coppices, reaching a forestry track. Turn right here. Shortly you come to a crossing of tracks: continue straight on.
- 6 The track immediately becomes a narrow path descending at first through a springy grassy area which can be soggy in any season. The path crosses a track and continues to descend through gorse. In good weather, this is a delightful straight path with only one or two patches of damp to be skipped over. Finally the path enters the trees of Tuder's Copse, goes over a bridge and approaches a house. It runs along the edge of the lawn to the left of the house and reaches the front drive. Cross over the drive and continue on a wide track ahead running to the right of an oak and a garage. When the track reaches a drive, turn right and stay on the drive bearing left to go under a railway arch.
- 7 Follow this drive past properties, including the aptly-named Red Cottages with their herringbone bricks. Eventually the track reaches a bridge over a stream with a little footbridge to its left. Leave the track here where it bends left by taking a narrow unmarked path directly ahead up a bank. This path goes up a steep step and leads up to a local road, Church Close, which in turn leads out to the main road at Grayswood. The "Wheatsheaf Inn", a hotel and upmarket pub is 170m to your right.

Decision point. If you are doing the short Western Walk, turn right, passing the Wheatsheaf and, 40m after the pub, turn right on an unnamed local road.

To continue on towards Chiddingfold, cross straight over to a minor road, Lower Road, beside the Green.

Leg 2: Grayswood to Chiddingfold 5½ km=3½ miles

- 1 Follow Lower Road beside the Green and, where the road forks beside the school on the left, take the main left fork. The road is lined on one side with small houses. It reaches a T-junction with another road, Clammer Hill. Go straight over the road onto a bridleway opposite. Follow the bridleway for a short distance past isolated properties, where the track bends to the right just before a water treatment station. Turn left here but, immediately after, ignore a footpath on your left and take a narrow path on your right that runs on the right-hand side of the meadow.
- 2 Continue over two wide footbridges and into woods. From here you will be following blue arrows. After 100m, at a post with a blue arrow, take the left fork, avoiding a path on the right over a bank. After another 100m, ignore a wide forestry track on the right by a fence post. After about 50m go over a wide bridge and about 50m further, when you come to a T-junction with a broad forestry track*, turn right. After about 100m go over another crossing track. After 70m, go through a one-bar gate. Wheel left and right onto a parallel forest path which narrows through woodland. After about 250m, your route goes straight across a broad forestry track. Continue for another 100m or so, ignoring waymarked paths right and left. Finally the path takes you through a small wooden gate and shortly joins a minor lane with a house on your right, Frillinghurst Old Manor. Ignore a footpath on the right soon after (see the “Chiddingfold-Northchapel” walk). This lane runs through the attractive hamlet of Frillinghurst. After about 400m, you join a lane coming in from the right and pass the delectable Dell Farm House. You reach a red tile-hung house Furzfield on your right with its sculpted hedge. 30m after it, take a bridleway on the right.
- 3 The path runs alongside a field and re-enters woodland. Ignore a footpath on the right and continue for about ½ km through the wood to join a tarmac lane coming in from left from a house, Hollyhurst. This lane passes houses on both sides in the hamlet of Upper Sydenhurst. You pass a footpath on the left and another that points down a tarmac lane on the left. A little further on, you reach the redbrick pillars and elegant wooden gates of Sydenhurst House, opposite the old Ukrainian Home (founded in 1949 as a safe haven for veterans and invalids, closed in 2013). Go left through the smaller gate onto the house’s driveway. Where the driveway ends, keep left through a wooden gate ahead on a sunken footpath, passing through woodland. After about 50m you pass the edge of a pond on your left and your path rises gradually over tree roots through holly. It emerges via a stile onto an open hillside. Near the top right of the meadow, turn right on a crossing path.
- 4 This path leads over two stiles (one just a stump), between fences and out into a superior residential road. Keep ahead and, at the end, continue on a path downwards over an open hillside with fine views all around and a sight of your destination below, passes a graveyard, goes through an old broken kissing gate and eventually meets a lane. Turn right on the lane meeting the main A283 road through Chiddingfold and turn right again.

There is a shop at Chiddingfold and both the Crown Inn (founded 1250) and the Swan Inn serve good food. There is also the “Treacles Tea Shop”. St Mary’s church, which dates back to around 1190, and its churchyard with its notable brick-vaulted graves are definitely worth visiting.

Leg 3: Chiddingfold to Grayswood 5¾ km=3½ miles

- 1 Passing the church on your right, turn right on Mill Lane. Follow this quiet lane for nearly 1 km, going by the entrance to Sydenhurst House on the right, and passing a lane on the right marked as a footpath. 50m further on, turn right at another footpath sign through a modern kissing gate.
- 2 Follow the path across a meadow (till recently two smaller meadows). The path bends right at the far end of the meadow, through another kissing gate, round the back of a garden and left again on a path enclosed by banks. The path curves left and right through a plantation and then enters a large field via a gate or stile. Continue along the right-hand side of the field and then straight on at the field corner, after a total of 450m meeting a stile onto a tarmac lane.
- 3 Turn right on the lane, ignoring a footpath ahead, and passing Hawlands. Where the lane curves right, leave it to continue straight ahead on a wide footpath. In 50m, ignore a footpath forking off right (see the walk "Witley, Hambledon, Chiddingfold"). In 120m the footpath runs between fields. After another 400m or so, as the path begins to descend after an uphill section, turn left at a crossing footpath through a small galvanized metal gate. Take care not to miss this turn! Go straight ahead across the meadow. Your path leads (a) through a gap using a large metal gate or stile, (b) through another gap with another metal gate or a stile to its left, (c) along the left-hand side of a meadow, (d) over a stile or through a metal gate into a paddock with horse jumps, (e) over a drive via two small wooden gates, (f) via another wooden gate onto a grassy path near the house, (g) through another wooden gate and diagonally in front of the house. (The path seems to cross the garden of the house but this is correct!) Cross in front of a second, smaller, house and keep left next to its fence to emerge on a road. Turn left on the road.
- 4 Stay on the road for about 200m, passing Little and the High Prestwick Farms and ignoring the footpath through the second of these. Just after the last house, Damson Cottage, take a narrow footpath left that starts just after a driveway and runs to the right of a shed, close to the road, through a small wooden gate and out into fields. Continue in the same direction along the left-hand side of two fields, separated by a stile, leading to a junction of farm tracks with four metal farm gates. Go straight on through the gate ahead, continuing down the right-hand side of the sheep pasture. There are fine views of Hindhead Common on your right. At the bottom, on meeting woodland, turn right through a modern kissing gate. In the far bottom corner, go left through a kissing gate (somewhat waterlogged in season), over a little bridge, and cross a broad track onto an enclosed path.

- 5] At the end of the path, you meet a path on the left. This is the path used on the outward journey. (If you are doing the Eastern Walk beginning in Chiddingfold and you do not want a break for refreshments in Grayswood, take the path on the left and continue the walk from Leg 2 section 2.) Ignore the path on the left and in 20m turn right on a broad track. On meeting a road, cross straight over on Lower Road and follow it past houses to reach the start of the Green at Grayswood. Just before the first house, turn left on a narrow signed footpath. You pass homes including Spring Cottage with its US Post box and amusing sign and come out to the main road opposite an unnamed local road. The Wheatsheaf Inn is just to its right.

Leg 4: Grayswood to Hindhead 4 km=2½ miles

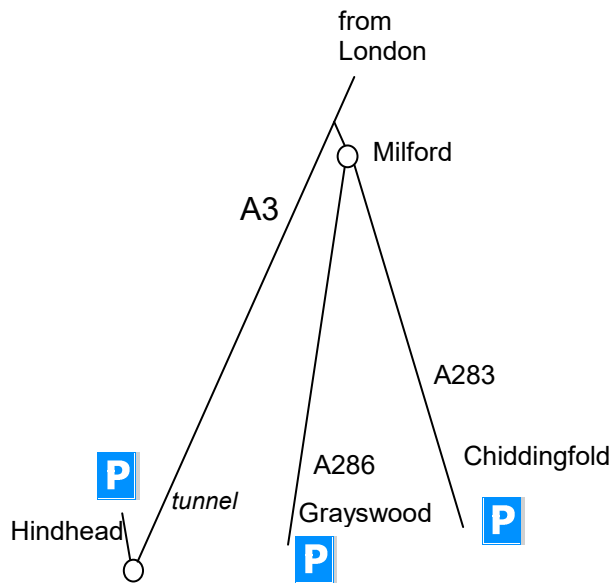

- 1 Follow the unnamed local road almost to its end where you need to look out for a footpath on the right opposite The Alding. Follow the path down steps and over a bridge [2017: negotiating a number of fallen trees – the bridge is just about passable!] in attractive woodland. The path reaches a gate leading up to a new crossing. Cross the railway line here and continue  through a gate and an old kissing gate, now disused. In 120m you approach a metal kissing gate leading into a small pasture. Do not go into the field but instead take a marked path left through more woodland.
- 2 The path goes along a boardwalk, over a stream and curves right uphill. Follow this sunken path under tall beeches, over a stile, through bracken, eventually going through a wooden swing gate onto an open hillside. Cross the grass on the level, with Keffold's Farm prominent up on your right (and sometimes a group of alpacas), exiting through another wooden swing gate. (Care! some walkers go wrong here.) The path now leads up to a small gate. Turn sharp right here, almost doubling back. The path curves round left past the farm and reaches a wide track at a T-junction.
- 3 Turn sharp left here on a lane marked as a footpath. Follow this pleasant lane or track for nearly 400m until it reaches a hairpin. Here, ignore all the tracks on the left and keep right all the way round the hairpin. The lane eventually reaches a T-junction with a quiet road by Ormiston Lodge.
- 4 Turn right on the road, ignoring the private drive. Note the little robin on the gate of "Robins". After a metal barrier, at a clearing with a National Trust sign for Inval, turn left on a sunken rising track. At the top of the rise, leave the track by turning left on a path marked by a post with blue arrows. The path veers right, narrows and descends fairly steeply to a signposted crossing track. Cross straight over it. The path follows a fence and fields on the left, curves away right opposite a large wooden gate and reaches another 4-way junction with the hamlet of Coombe Head on the right. Go straight ahead through a gate, thus leaving the wide track. Stay on this path for only 50m and take a footpath on the left. Take care not to miss this path: the sign is hidden on the top of a post and is not immediately visible.
- 5 The path rises steeply and so it is a bit of a "sting in the tail". After a vigorous climb, you reach a prominent clearing with views all around and a seat. Ahead is a popular broad level walk across the Common. Cross over to a slanting information board and turn right on a wide path in the direction of the Hidden Hindhead Trail, passing to the left of a stone-and-wood seat. Immediately you cross another path obliquely. In 150m, ignore a bridleway sharp left and 15m later, at a junction with blue arrows, turn left with the main sandy path, thus leaving the Hidden Hindhead Trail. There are fabulous views left into Hampshire. Follow this path all the way to a gate into a National Trust maintenance area and the parking area at Hindhead where the walk began.

Getting there

By car: there are three possible starting points. Begin in Hindhead for the Full Walk or Western Walk: take the A3 and turn off, just south of the tunnel, at a sign for Hindhead. At the traffic lights in Hindhead, keep straight ahead onto a cul-de-sac. The car park is on the left. Refreshments are available at the Punch Bowl Café.

Begin in Grayswood for the Western Walk or Eastern Walk: turn off the A3 at Milford and take the Haslemere road through Brook. There is plenty of parking near the Green.

Begin in Chiddingfold for the Full Walk or Eastern Walk: turn off the A3 at Milford and take the Petworth road. Park beside the Green.
